Sport and History: Continuity and Change
ISHPES 2022: FIRST CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

Congress theme: Sport and History: Continuity and Change

We now welcome abstracts for the ISHPES 2022 congress/conference!

Scholars are invited to submit individual abstracts focused upon one of the following subtopics:

- Sport, Physical Education and Sustainability
- Outdoor Life and Nature
- Disruptions, Conflicts and Pandemics
- Politics, National Identities and Diplomacy in Sports
- Environmental Legacy in Paralympics, Olympics and Other Mega Events
- Sport, Technology and Innovation
- Sports in Media and Popular Culture
- Genders, Disabilities and Diversity in Sport
- Sporting Bodies
- Teaching and Methodology in Sport History
- Open Papers

Scholars are also welcomed to suggest sessions including three abstracts related to the main topic “Sport and History: Continuity and Change”.

INDIVIDUAL PAPERS

An individual submission consists of a 20-minutes oral presentation, followed by a discussion. The official language of the congress is English. A person can only present one paper as first author. Presenters should be ISHPES members (if you are not a member yet, please fill out the membership form online https://www.ishpes.org/membership ).

We invite you to submit your abstract on https://www.conftool.net/2022-ishpes-conference/

- Name of the author(s), your institutional affiliation and position, your office and mobile phone numbers and email addresses.
- The paper’s title followed by a 350 words (maximum) abstract of the proposed paper.
- The abstract should include the question(s) addressed in the paper, the evidence to be used, a precise statement of the argument and conclusions, and what significance the paper has to our understanding of sports history. You do not need any keywords or a reference list.
- Please specify also to what sub-theme your abstract is related, this helps adding it to a session with similar papers.

THEMATIC SESSIONS

Scholars are invited to suggest sessions including three abstracts related to the main topic “Sport and History: Continuity and Change”.

Please make sure your submission includes the following points:

- An abstract describing the session
Name of the author(s), your institutional affiliation and position, your office and mobile phone numbers, and email addresses for the session organizer/moderator

The title and abstract for each paper

Session submission is exclusively online in https://www.conftool.net/2022-ishpes-conference/

The deadline for thematic sessions/abstract submission is January 15th, 2022.

GIGLIOLA GORI JUNIOR SCHOLAR AWARD

The prize is awarded for an unpublished essay of outstanding quality in the field of sport history, written by a PhD Student (or having defended their thesis less than a year before the date of the conference). The award winner will receive 500€ (five hundred euros) and free registration at the Congress and a year’s membership to ISHPES. His/her paper will be considered for publication in the International Journal of the History of Sport. Essays must be submitted to Malcolm MacLean, Chair of the Awards Committee, by email no later than April 1, 2022: awards@ishpes.org. More information: https://www.ishpes.org/early-scholar-award-winners

SUMMER SCHOOL FOR PHD STUDENTS

Before the conference, a summer school dedicated to PhD students is organized in Oslo by the Université Gustave Eiffel and Université de Lausanne, with the support of Norwegian School of Sport Sciences. This summer school aims to promote sport history but also more broadly social and human sciences used to analyze the sport phenomena. This course aims to provide a unique environment for PhD students who seek to develop skills around sport history, and to improve their network in the field. Lectures given by leading experts will cover specific methodological aspects and new issues in the field of sport history. Participants will also have the opportunity to present and discuss their own research in working sessions.

Application is open until January 15th on: https://www.conftool.net/2022-ishpes-conference/

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Keynote speakers include Prof Sverker Sörlin, KTH Royal Institute of Technology (Stockholm)
Dear fellow sport historians and enthusiasts! Here at the Norwegian School of Sport Sciences (NIH) neighboring the wide-ranging Nordmarka wilderness area and the beautiful lake Sognsvann, we are excited to welcome you all to ISHPES’ annual conference in Oslo 2022. Home to the world’s first 50 km ski race in 1888, our capital vibrates with the continuous ripples of human sporting activity and a history of winter sports especially. During this conference, we hope to give attendees memorable encounters with some of the historical locations in our city that have weaved sport into the cultural fabric of society in the Nordics, including a tour through 4000 years of ski history at the Ski Museum and a banquet at Holmenkollen where our “second national day”, the National Ski Festival, continues to be a yearly people’s event. We hope to see you here next June!

Where and how to get here?

The conference will be held at the Norwegian School of Sport Sciences (NIH) in Oslo, capital of Norway. Local address is Sognsveien 220. Oslo can be reached by all sorts of travel: Air, railway, boat, and car.

Dates

The conference will start on June 29th and finish on July 2nd.

Transportation and location during conference

From Oslo airport to Oslo city centre and Comfort Hotel Xpress Central Station and Comfort Hotel Grand Central

Oslo Airport Gardermoen is located 50 kilometres outside of the city. For transport, trains and buses are good alternatives. The airport train costs 199 NOK and goes faster; the local train will cost you about 80 NOK less and take a little more time. You will find different pay booths in the airport’s exit hall for the two alternatives. Both stop at the Oslo Central Station, where Comfort Hotel Xpress Central Station and Comfort Hotel Grand Central are located a few minutes’ walk from the station.

From Oslo airport to Oslo city centre for Ullevaal and Thon Hotel Ullevaal

If you are staying at Thon Hotel Ullevaal, you can take the airport bus directly to Ullevaal stadium, a mere two minutes’ walk to the hotel.

You can also take the airport train or the local train to the Central station and then hop onto one of the following westbound metro lines to the metro stop called “Ullevaal stadion”:

- Number “4 Vestli via Storo”
- Number “5 Ringen”, or
- Number “5 Sognsvann”
From the City centre and Ullevaal stadium to the conference venue (NIH) and Olympiatoppen Sports Hotel
The conference venue at NIH is located 7 kilometres from the city centre. Main public transport here is the westbound line metro number 5 “Sognsvann” to its last station with the same name. This line travels from the city centre via Ullevaal stadium. At the Sognsvann station, you will find the NIH immediately at your left-hand side, and Olympiatoppen Sports hotel in the Olympiatoppen building next to NIH in the direction of Sognsvann (about a hundred meters from the metro station).

A little headsup on our metro system: line 5 comes in two versions, both “5 Ringen” and “5 Sognsvann”. The former goes for an extra round around the city before changing name and heading for Sognsvann. You should therefore not take 5 Ringen to get to NIH, as this will take you through the whole loop.
